

I am writing to ask you to consider ending your association with the American Journal of Physics for the reasons given here:

This article explains why "Entropy and Evolution" (Am. J. Phys., Vol. 76, No. 11, Nov. 2008) propping up the misinformation that natural selection explains common descent, not just the adaptation of species to the environment.

I filed a pending lawsuit against Columbia University for violating the First Amendment of the Constitution of the United States and disseminating misinformation about evolutionary biology (Docket No. 17-818, Second Circuit). Another example of pseudoscience is the nonsense that human beings evolved from animals. What evolved from animals are hypothetical creatures without free will and the conscious knowledge of human beings. See:
