

I would like to give your faculty and your students a developmental lesson on the arguments for God's existence. I am a retired high school teacher and am against lecturing. A lecture-like version of the lesson is here:

In the lesson I want to give, I'll be distributing the attached handout, and will be using the quotes in it to develop my ideas about this matter.

My correspondence with the Catholic Church about this matter is at <http://www.newevangelist.me>.

Very truly yours,
